

Meet your Farmer

Kathy Riggs-Allen, Farm Manager

Introducing Kathy Riggs-Allen, the farm manager at Porter Farms! If you've never met Kathy, you are one of the small minority in Genesee County. Everywhere we go, it is guaranteed that she will know at least one person there. Many people will remember her from her years of employment at Tops Markets, where she met her husband Mark. Fun fact--she was actually Katie's boss at Tops. Others may know Kathy from her involvement at The Caryville Inn in Oakfield and The Alabama Hotel.

Growing up, her and her three siblings (she's the youngest) would help their father grow various crops in the field behind their house. They would then sell their garlic, green beans, sweet corn, peppers, and winter squash at roadside stands. Her knowledge of garlic planting was crucial this year as we grew garlic for the first time!

Throughout high school Kathy was a star athlete, and later played softball at Brockport State College. She earned her Bachelors in Athletic Education and Masters degree in Athletic Administration, both at Brockport. After graduating, she continued to pursue her passion of softball and coached at Brockport for eight years.

So how did Kathy become involved with Porter Farms? Farmer Mike used to go to The Caryville Inn almost every day for lunch. After he became a "regular", he and Kathy became great friends. After asking him for years for a job at the farm, he finally called her up two years ago and said "I've got a job for you", and the rest is history.

Kathy's first major job at the farm was to help complete our farm store, offices, commercial kitchen, break room, and bathrooms. Her vision for the store and offices has been amazing, totally transforming the look of the farm. After Farmer Mike's passing in January 2021, Kathy stepped up to help keep our farm operating and has learned a lot about farming in a very short amount of time. On a day-to-day basis Kathy can be found doing the following things: payroll, insurance, managing livestock, managing the retail store, setting up irrigation, cultivating, keeping records for our GAP (Good Agricultural Practices) certification, managing the various crews, maintaining records for all vehicles and tractors, and helping with CSA packing and distribution. Most importantly, she keeps our crew laughing all day long.

In her spare time, Kathy enjoys playing softball, four wheeling, trap shooting, and collecting sneakers.
